interface Ceramic Etch and Silane in One

Interface™ is the only material that allows a doctor to prepare ceramics, dentin and enamel in one simple application step. Interface achieves this without the use of hydrofluoric acid. Interface™ eliminates the guesswork associated with deciding whether to first etch exposed tooth structure or the ceramic material. Why decide when you can simply use Interface™? Interface eliminates the worry over whether your silane is fresh. It is at its maximum potency when it is applied.

- Prepares ceramics, enamel and dentin in one application
- Eliminates hydrofluoric acid
- Eliminates the hydrofluoric/phosphoric acid dilemma
- Always fresh

Interface™ is a two-bottle system that is mixed prior to use. This guarantees your material is fresh and functional for each and every use.

This material has been evaluated in every way imaginable:

- All porcelain cementation and repairs
- Ceramic/enamel repairs
- Ceramic/enamel/dentin repairs
- CEREC cementation
- Anywhere silanes are used today

With the popularity of ceramics on the rise can you afford not to be armed with this revolutionary system?

Kit includes 2 - 3 ml bottles of material, applicators, a well and instructions.
